

G. WALTER BARR
KEOKUK, IOWA

August 12, 1925.

The woman I never saw who is most interesting to be because of her colorful life and big achievement is Mrs. Fels, philanthropist and Zionist. Her life has been unusual most of the time, and full of large ~~and~~ factors always. Handicapped by many millions and perhaps by her forbears and blood, she has been of great use to the world and especially to her own people. Perhaps one reason for my interest in her still growing biography is the fact that probably I am the only living ~~man~~ man who knows historically y the vividly beautiful and tenderly tragic romance which gave the opportunity for all the rest.

G. WALTER BARR

August 12, 1922.

The woman I never saw who is most interesting to be because of her colorful life and big achievement is Mrs. Fels, philanthropist and historian. Her life has been unusual most of the time, and full of large and factors always. Handicapped by many millions and perhaps by her forbearance and blood, she has been of great use to the world and especially to her own people. Perhaps one reason for my interest in her still growing biography is the fact that probably I am the only living man who knows historically the vividly beautiful and tenderly tragic romance which gave the opportunity for all the rest.

G. WALTER BARR